Thanks Dawn. Looks good. A few points:

1. Regarding the Strait of BI, the impression is left that Nalcor will do the EPCM work internally rather than contract this out to a different company. Is this accurate or should it be clarified?
2. Suggest developing a response to the question why this is proceeding now in advance of Innu ratification and in advance of EA release? May be a perception that this is an expensive risky decision without these other impt matters being concluded.
3. Also, how much of this work will occur in Labrador?

Robert

Attached are DRAFTS of news release, Q&A and key message doc.

I was asked to remove the name of the successful proponent. We will be notifying them tomorrow and there is a significant commercial sensitivity for all shortlisted proponents. We are conducting a final review of materials this evening and plan on issuing tomorrow morning as you know.

I will send along final materials in the morning prior to release. Any questions, please let me know.
