Hello Charles,

Michael had a phone meeting with Jim and team over the weekend. It was a positive meeting and I believe the participants are aligned and Nalcor are gathering information. A collective decision was made to move the entire schedule of the EY review out by one week. This will allow sufficient time for Nalcor to gather and provide the requested information and will allow for efficient and effective EY on-site work.

Therefore:

- our on-site fieldwork will now start Tuesday July 11th.
- our anticipated reporting date would therefore be the week of Aug 7 (originally scheduled the week of July 31).

Please offer your thoughts (and acceptance) regarding this change. We will keep you posted on progress.

Regards,

David
