Good evening all -

I think this letter to Astaldi better reflects on discussions of the other night and resets the tone. I spoke with Ed earlier this evening and he seemed accepting of EY's involvement - even if it took a while to get there. This is just the beginning and the question is influencing the outcome of the negotiations. If we land exactly as described by Ed in December - it will beg a question.

As per the discussion tomorrow with EY - may I have a copy of the final agreed scope of work? I find it interesting that EY has indicated they were given the direction in January to base their review on the September numbers.

If this is their 'final' report we would need to have the data behind how they are reaching these conclusions.

Talk tomorrow -
